Best hotel freebies & toiletries in Singapore

There’s just something about hotel showers that just hits different. Maybe it’s the way the rain shower trickles down and makes you feel like you’re in a music video from the early 2000s; or the boujee toiletries that just scream luxury.

Well, if you’re paying good money for a staycation, you do deserve some good perks – toiletries and free canapes included. We’ve compiled a list of 8 hotels that offer the best toiletries and freebies for living in the lap of luxury without blowing your budget.

Invite your besties but make sure not to spill the tea at The Clan Hotel. Guests will be treated to a complimentary Chinese welcome tea ceremony by a tea master who'll prepare a brew of Nanyang Tea that is served with Tau Sar Piah.

What's more luxurious than being served an aesthetic nighttime tea set up?

Guests will also love the hotel's turndown service, known as the Cocoon Ritual. Instead of the usual service at other hotels, the Cocoon Ritual service includes a calming tea that's a blend of jasmine, red dates, and Emperor Bloom, accompanied with essential oils to give you a good night's rest.

*The amenities in The Clan Hotel are by Vuudh with scents of lotus and osmanthus.

Singapore hotels with freebies and “branded” toiletries

From fancy scented body wash to an actual tea ceremony, these hotels know how to do it up. Your staycation experience doesn't need to end the second you step out of your room. Some of these products are available for purchase in external stores – or double up as a staycation souvenir.

We don't have to go far to experience luxury when it's literally right in our backyard. Why spend over $100 on a fragrance when you could spend over $100 on a comfortable room with scented amenities? A win-win.
