If you're looking for an extended retreat, try staying at a co-living space! Lyf is expanding and aims to open two properties of its own by end 2021— one at Farrer Park and another at One-north.

Lyf One-north will be the first co-living space within Singapore's research and innovation business hub. But for staycayers, it's a fresh location away from the city. It's close by food park Timbre+ and just two stops away from Holland Village by MRT — known for its many cafes.
