Welcome Tea Ceremony

Rooms

Before you are ushered into your rooms, a welcome tea ceremony is performed where you will enjoy a specially curated blend for The Clan Hotel Singapore by Pryce Tea along with a traditional pastry that is still as popular today as in the yesteryears. Launched in March this year, this chic property has 324 guest rooms spread over three categories, Grand Premier, Premier and Deluxe. Each accommodation feature stylishly modern decor and posh detailing. Enjoy luxury amenities and large format windows that feature stunning juxtaposition views of modern skyscrapers and historic shop houses.

Premier Room

Premier Room – Washroom

The team at Savour BlackBookAsia Magazine recommend the MASTER Series rooms where guests have an option of an in-room check in experience along with exclusive orientation of the hotel, pre-arranged by The Clan Keeper (similar to the butlers you get at Raffles and St Regis Hotels). On top of that are thoughtful amenities like handcrafted soap, Bak Ku Teh cookies and Nanyang Ritual tea to get you settled in nicely. “Turndown service is an important inclusion during my stay at various hotels around the world and The Clan Hotel Singapore does it in style with a calming brew and goodnight essential oil to help one relax and unwind after a long day” said Editor In Chief Gabriel Tan.

Dining

Stylish in their simplicity and decadent in their details, QĪN Restaurant and Bar recall the interior of a traditional Chinese medicinal shop cabinets which lined the wall of the entrance and covers the entire ceiling. The floor to ceiling windows allows natural light into the space filled with bespoke furniture and contemporary lamps that adds an artful touch. This all-day eatery is inspired by the food culture of the past combined with exemplary cooking methods that the TungLok Group is renown for in this collaboration with The Clan Hotel Singapore. QĪN Restaurant and Bar’s kitchen team is lead by executive chef James Tay who boast stellar experiences both abroad and in Singapore, bringing an additional x factor to this establishment with his vase culinary knowledge and technical skills.

QIN Restaurant And Bar

QĪN – Breakfast Home Brewed Local Porridge

The hearty menu for breakfast includes western influences such as The QĪN Breakfast to rich Asian staples like the Home Brewed Local Porridge. This is a variation of the congee that is signature to many TungLok restaurants, chef's daily brewed porridge with seafood topped with delectable delights such as fried shallots, spring onions, and a dough fritter. Flavourful braised peanuts, ikan bilis and century egg are served on the side. Enjoy your meal in an atmosphere that effortlessly blends historical charm with sophistication. For dinner, the Spatchcock is not to be missed. Corn-fed chicken from France with rice cake that taste similar to the Singaporean chicken rice but elevated to a fine dining standard. Fermented chilli aioli drops on the fowl and generous amount of shoyu jus to finish.
