Business Chief takes a look at six of the very best luxury hotels for those travelling for business or pleasure to the bustling city state of Singapore

If you're in search of some luxury accommodation where you can wind down after a long day, then Singapore is the place for you.

In fact, the city state's hotels offer so much more than simply a place to rest your head, with swanky shops, top-quality restaurants and rooftop pools in plentiful supply.

Here, Business Chief takes a look at six of the very best luxury hotels in Singapore.

The Clan Hotel

The Clan Hotel is situated in Cross Street which, in the 1800s, was a stepping stone for settlers looking to discover new opportunities in Singapore.

Today the street is equally as thriving, but has evolved as a part of the city's Central Business District where you'll find a lively entertainment scene.

The hotel itself is the definition of modern luxury, with a glorious sky pool and jacuzzi complementing a well-equipped sky gym to suit all your fitness needs.

Elsewhere, the Mahjong Room – capable of hosting up to 60 people – takes inspiration from the meeting halls of clan associations, where Singapore's immigrant communities would once gather. On offer is an upscale indoor space ideal for hosting meetings, social networking and corporate events.
