Time Out says

From June 1 to December 20, The Clan Hotel presents an exclusive Culture and Cuisine package for all to wind down with while diving into the rich culture of Singapore. This enticing offer encompasses a two-night luxury stay in the five-star hotel's premier Master Series room, with breakfast at QĪN Restaurant & Bar, an exquisite 6-course Teochew dining experience at Zui Yu Xuan, and a hands-on porcelain plate workshop. You'll also be entitled to a one-way limousine transfer.

Experience a relaxing arrival as you are treated to a welcoming tea ceremony upon your check-in. Your home for the next two nights will be from the hotel's Master Series, the highest-tier accommodations at The Clan. What sets the Master Series rooms apart are their personalised in-room refreshments, and access to the exclusive offerings provided by The Clan Keeper – your personal assistant during your time of stay. Not to mention, the breathtaking views overlooking Singapore's distinctive CBD area, Amoy Street and Chinatown.

As the saying goes, "food is the identity of culture", and it holds true indeed. Immerse yourself in the rich and authentic flavours of Teochew cuisine at Zui Yu Xuan. This restaurant, formerly a building for the Chui Eng Free School that was built in 1854 for boys in the Hokkien community, welcomes you with its impressive temple front. Take a moment to explore the charming courtyard of the restaurant before indulging in a thoughtfully curated 6-course meal.

Round off your experience with a workshop where you can craft your own blue-and-white porcelain plate at Supermama, a local design and lifestyle store. Decorate your plate with a variety of vinyl motifs that encapsulate Singapore's culture, ranging from local cuisine to iconic landmarks. These plates will then be sent for firing, and you'll have the pleasure of taking home your own personalised piece of tableware.
