7 best staycation packages in Singapore to book for your next weekend getaway
If you're suffering from cabin fever, you're not alone. Thankfully, there are enough hotels here to get you out of the monotony for a few good days.

The next dilemma, though, is choosing from the plethora of options available. Being spoilt for choice means that the only thing that really stands between a good "vacation" away from home and an excellent one are these staycation packages in Singapore.

Designed to cater to every preference, whether you're big on sustainability or want to do James Bond-approved stuff with your best buds, these staycation packages are a great way to reconnect with your inner self and loved ones. A few in this list will even teach you a thing or two about Singapore. For functioning alcoholics, there's even onee with free-flow champagne.

From Raffles Hotel to The Clan, here are the best staycation packages in Singapore to unwind with this year.

The Clan Uncovers: Craft and Cook Staycation Package

If you thought you've seen it all in Singapore, let The Clan Hotel Singapore prove you wrong. This new experiential stay package is a two-night affair that will give guests a chance to explore the untapped experiences that this city has to offer, whether it's a sandal-making workshop or a cooking class for Hainanese dishes.

Those who want to learn more about the Hokkien community in Singapore can also get an insightful tour of the Hokkien Temple behind Crawford lane, followed by an authentic Hokkien culinary experience led by experts. A four-course dinner at the hotel's Qin Restaurant for two will also be included in this rich cultural experience.
