Sick and tired of the same old view from your room? Why not switch things up with a working vacation? We've done the research and shortlisted eight of our favourite work-from-hotel options on Booking.com that cater to every budget in the CBD!

If you're feeling claustrophobia and fatigue set in from all that flip-flopping of work-related restrictions, you're not alone. We feel it too! Thus we decided to take to the web and sniff out the best hotels out there that would serve as conducive options for both work and play on Booking.com.

Best Hotels For a Working Vacation:

3. The Clan Hotel

If you prefer hiding out on the fringes of the CBD, The Clan Hotel should be on the top of your list. While you'll still be near the CBD, you'll also have your fair share of trendy bars and restaurants right beside you ala Telok Ayer to distract you from all that stress. Decked out in modern and semi-industrial furnishings, including a good-sized desk, each room is also stocked with a healthy selection of curated tea blends, cookies and a pint of their very own craft beer. After a hard day's work, settle down with the turndown service that includes a butler-drawn bath, essential oils and a nice calming brew.

Price Per Night: From S$200
